

Welcome to Narratopia

Thousands of years ago, our ancestors sat around their camp fires, gazed up at the night sky, and told each other stories. Have you ever wished you could go back in time and visit that world? You can't (yet), but a game of Narratopia is the next best thing.

When you play Narratopia, you tell stories, ask questions about them, and tell more stories in response. One story leads to another, and soon you've built a connected web of stories. It's a new game every time because you provide the power that makes the game interesting and new.

Narratopia's gameplay and components are informed by decades of published research into the ways people naturally tell and listen to stories in conversation. It was created by a researcher with nearly two decades of experience working with stories in communities and organizations.

You can play Narratopia at home, at work, or in a community or organizational meeting. Whenever you want to get to know each other better, think about something together, or just enjoy that warm campfire feeling, Narratopia is a place you'll want to be.
